DEDICATION

Annual Staff

D. Seal, Photographer; L. Williams, Business Manager, L. Stoker, Sports Writer; N. Steele, Assistant Editor; S. Stocker, Society Editor; W. Howe, Editor. Absent: N. Rich, Assistant Business Manager.

Dedication

The Senior Class of 1954 wishes to dedicate this annual to the future students of Haswell School. We hope that they will reap as many of its benefits as we have and also that the people of our community will see fit to provide them with all the best educational and vocational facilities that are available.

Class Will

I, Lewis Clark Schmitt, will and bequeath the following:

I will my "slow-but sure" way of doing things to Lester and Leland, who are always in a hurry.

I will my class ring to Nadine--might as well since she already has it.

I will my younger brother to Gayla, if she will accept him.

I will my winning smile to Cleva, as she could use it quite often to a very good advantage.

To the teachers I will all my books and hope that they aren't so hard on the students in the next ten years.

Since there is just one of me, I will to everyone in high school all the good times that I have had in going to school here for four years and I hope that all the rest will have as much fun in the years to come as I have had in the past.

Class Prophecy

It has been said that it is a good thing we can't see into the future, but for a moment let us glance into the future of Lewis Schmitt, who was the only member of that grand Senior Class of 1954.

Lewis was well-known by his classmates for his "snappy" dress, the exacting wave in his hair and the "flashy" cars he piloted during his high school years. It is no surprise now, then, that he is a well-known, much-sought-after television figure. His most popular program right now is "Terrors Of The Town", which he writes and produces and in which he stars. His program includes some of his old "flames" and "fellow sufferers" of Haswell High--Cleva Engberg, Shirley Stoker, Nadine Steele, Lester Williams and Lewis's younger brother, Alan. Under Lewis's able direction this group has become the leading talent show of Broadway and television.

We are told that Lewis's wardrobe includes at least twenty-five especially tailored suits, more than 2 dozen handmade shirts and ties. His shoes are exclusive styles from a famous manufacturer. His name is stamped in gold in each shoe as he loses so many because of his habit of removing them every time he sets down and going off and leaving them.

His fans are always eager to get a shoe with the famous name of "Lewis Schmitt" in them. In addition to the expensive clothes he owns, he still keeps several pairs of levis and sport shirts that he wore during high school.

The cars in Lewis's garage would be the envy of all who knew him. When he takes a car out for business or pleasure and parks it somewhere, he can never remember whether he should return to a Cadillac or a Lincoln, or maybe his Jaguar, when he is ready to go home.

Those of us who are less fortunate and who are still toiling away at Haswell High are proud of Lewis and his success.
