THE EAGLE

FOREWORD

Tomorrow's memories are made up of the joys and sorrows of many todays. It is with the hope of preserving some of the memorable occasions of the past year that the 1964-65 Eagle Annual Staff presents this year's annual for your approval. We will be justly paid for our many hours of work on this book if it brings an equal number of hours of enjoyment for you while you look through its pages.

DEDICATION

A black and white portrait of an elderly woman with short, wavy, light-colored hair. She is wearing dark-rimmed glasses and a large, round, multi-strand pearl earring. She is dressed in a dark jacket over a light-colored blouse. The background is a plain, light color.

To the Students of Eads High School:

To live fully, seek, search and strive.

Seek to know yourself, your talents, ambitions, and desires, and relate to them your opportunities and achievements.

Search out the great truths of science, the arts, and philosophy - your heritage - so to enrich your life.

Strive to make a positive contribution through your life, that by your beneficence, mankind may look forward and up, unfettered and unafraid, to the Light which is the source of truth and life.

MESSAGES FROM THE ADMINISTRATORS

To the Sponsor, Editor, and Staff Members of the Eads Yearbook.

I wish to personally congratulate you on the time and effort which you have given in the publishing of a pictorial record of the events for this yearbook. You are building something of a permanent nature. Undoubtedly, you should receive much self satisfaction in this accomplishment.

May your future achievements be as durable and long lasting as this yearbook, and may it be only one of many of your future worthwhile achievements.

Your School Superintendent,
R. E. ANDERSON

Congratulations to the Class of 1965.

You have prepared yourself for your adult life during the past twelve years some of you will continue the preparations in institutions of higher learning, some in trade schools, some in the service, and some in society. Where ever you go I hope you will remember your days at Eads High School. Best Wishes.

Sincerely,
R. L. GREENWELL
Principal, Eads High School

Congratulations to this year's graduates. May you all be zealous and eager in seeking the fulfillment of your life's ambitions.

To those students coming back next year--concentrate on taking an optimistic viewpoint on all things that may confront you in the future. Do not try to hurry your school career to an end because you are now in one of the happiest periods of your life.

Sincerely,
R. O. WOODS
Principal, Eads Elementary

My congratulations to the 1964-65 Yearbook Staff.

It is an excellent piece of work which reflects all the past school events. May each and every student of School District Re-1 look through the pages and cherish each occasion with fond memories.

Sincerely,
BUDDY E. WISER
Principal, Haswell Elementary

MARCHING BAND

The Eads Junior High and High School Band helped to boost the football team by marching and playing at all the home games. In addition to the football half-time shows, the band had made several other performances which includes the parade at the Colorado State College festivities for their homecoming, as well as the parade during the Eads fair.

Leader of the Pack

The Eagles had one of their more successful seasons in recent years, in 1964. After dropping their first three games they recovered to complete the season with a 3-3-2 record. In the league the Eagles finished in second place, with a 2-1 record.

All members of the squad are to be congratulated on a fine effort.
