SEASONS

by Bonnie Crockett

Summer is the season in which everything is alive and growing. Students are all around doing exactly what they want, thinking "this is the life," but not exactly knowing. During this time we all think we are forgetting what we have learned in the past, But during the first few days of the new school year everything we have learned and all the memories will come back and will last.

Fall approaches us with its colors that are overhanging, Just like everyone at school with our moods and ways which we are always rearranging. As time goes on you find yourself growing closer to everyone, because everyone does his part in keeping you going. All year long you have to be "up." Yes, you have to keep your spirit showing.

Winter is usually upon us before we realize it. With it comes basketball and snow, which sometimes brings bad weather vacations which are usually a hit! When winter and its coldness come to an end, We have another season, a whole new quarter and activities just around the bend!

Spring comes with its colors blooming and bright, Everyone is making plans for graduation, end of the year tests and things that one has to do to make the year end just right. Some have vacations planned while others hate to see the school year end, Because some won't see each other until next year and some you won't ever get to see again.

Just like the seasons each school year has different people and their changing ways. This all contributes to all our fond memories of "School Days." So don't just take school for granted, put everything you've got into it, so you can make memories that you can treasure. Yes, just thinking of your school days and all your friends will give you a sense of accomplishment and pleasure!

When a teacher cares enough
To try and make you smile
When he's always there with praise
To push you one more mile Showing and telling you that He wants to help you through
Not because you're a student
But just because you're you
He's more than just a teacher
He's a friend and a guide
He's someone you can turn to
And look up to with pride
But no one ever tells him
That all he's done is prized
That he's loved and respected
In every student's eyes
He really ought to know it
He needs some praising too
He needs the satisfaction
Of hearing it from you
So before I leave Plainview
I really want to say
Thank you for caring enough
To help us on our way.

"78"

Yes, it seems just like yesterday that
We were small,
Then suddenly years come upon us and
It doesn't seem like time at all.
Trying so hard to keep up with today,
Memories of good times fading away.
Growing up is hard to do
When you want to enjoy life's moments
Which are so few.
I might always be a child at heart
And from that will be much harder to Part.
The seasons are changing and so am I
And I must begin to tell my childhood
Good-bye.

OUR SENIORS

Seven in all
All important in their own way
And as I have learned if you ever need any of them just call
I will sure miss them after graduation day

They're all very special and all a part of us
They are concerned with friendship, love, and kindness
As they look back over their school years I hope they find memories that will be treasured Because the fun, the friendship, and the caring that I have known from them is something so great it can't be measured

Of all the things I have asked of you there is one more that I would like to ask
It is an important one to me but it is also a very small task
When you leave think of me once in a while and if and when you come by this way, stop and say hi
We want to thank you for your leadership that we have all known
With all the changing people you can see all the ways we have all grown

This poem is dedicated to you so enjoy it, yes, enjoy everything you do
Thanks for being friends with us and for everything you've done
But most of all thanks for being you

You all may think I'm bragging on them too much but just stop and think what they have added to your lives and how much you will miss them when they leave to start their own lives
