Tanner

As you grow, your interests and dreams may change, your injuries will become less--and your rewards will increase--definitely. But no matter what, we will cherish close to our hearts the memories of "the blankie", Teddy Ruxspin, the body cast, horses and ropes, basketball and girls, guitars, and even all the emergency rooms between here and Atlanta, Georgia. We will miss you bunches!

Love you,

Casey was one of the Hawks more aggressive players; always wanting to go for the kill. He blossomed into a leader both on and off the field.

42 tackles
21 assists
3.5 sacks
2 recovered fumbles
1 interception

Chris Stum

Chris was the team's kamikazi player. He used any method he could to bring opponents down. On offense he sacrificed his body to protect his fellow teammates.

Lady Hawk Basketball

"The Fiesty Five"

The Plainview Lady Hawks made the most with the minimum once again in the 2001-2002 basketball season where they played with only five girls. "The basketball season was exciting and enthusiastic," stated head coach Lloyd Dickenson, adding that "the team spirit increased with every game." The Hawks played tough throughout, showing that lack of numbers does not equate with lack of heart. Coach Dickenson summed it up best by saying that "the values the girls learn by playing sports will stay with them throughout life." Like the saying goes, "it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game."

Hoops 00-

This year the Hawks start the season with only eight players out for the team. Coach Jay Wilson had big plans for a small team. The Hawks started the season really strong getting third in the R.L. Ballard Tournament. Then the team found some difficulties coming up with the big wins. The Hawks were proud to have four player make All-Conference. Good season Hawks!

High School Baseball

Beginning Note: The year of 2002 was a short year for the Plainview baseball team. We struggled to put a team together, and after we had a team there were a couple of people that were playing under resistance. The privileged players are as follows: Miranda Weber, Brandon Kultgin, Kami Stum, Trevor Carney, Beau Portwine, Montana Barber, Cecil Colgen, Taner Nolan, Casey McDaniel, Sean Harkness, and Chris Stum. The practices were fun, but we were ready to play a game.

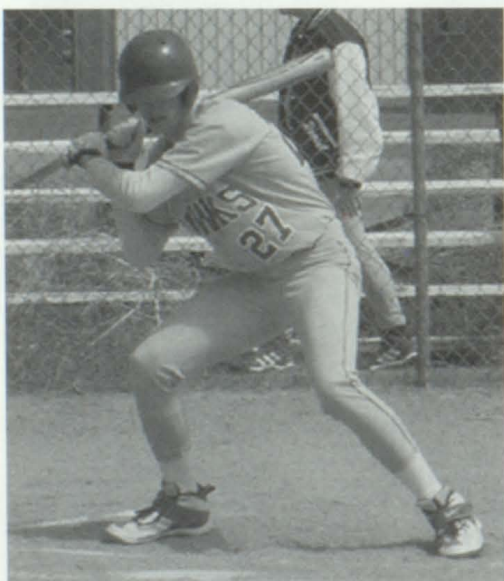

Right: Coach, Sean, Kami, and Miranda catch a few pointers on how to play baseball from Kaylee.

Down: Sean slugs another one into the field and takes off towards first.

Right: Chris hits another ball far out in the the outfield.

Top: Sean watches the ball carefully, but holds back from swinging.

Top Right: Trevor throws the ball to third for another great play.

Left: Chris, ready to catch the ball, but it was hit into the field.

Above Right: Sean uses his body to stop another ball from going into the outfield.

Ending Note: Because of people not having enough practices and eligibility the season took a little bit before it got started. The season started with the tough team of Springfield. After the loss of Springfield, the baseball team played Holly. Only to experience a character building loss. Following the Holly game Tanner, Beau, and Montana quit. This new movement brought a sudden halt to the season.

HawksTrack

High School Track

This year's track season was short. The Hawks only had five meets to go to with the exception of Regional. The Hawks had one of the largest teams ever out for track.

Everyone contributed points at at least one meet. Coach Holcomb was happy with everyone's performance at the meets. The freshman did excellent. Miranda missed going to state in the 800 by a fraction of a second and Vick had a very good chance to go to state in the hi-jump. Kami also narrowly missed going to state by less than a second. Trista was in track for the first year she placed in several events including her win in the 100 hurdles. Beau won the hi-jump at the Tribune track meet and Brady placed well in the 200 yard dash. Brandon Cecil Brady and Tanner were on the second place 4x4 team at League. Next year looks strong for many of the Hawks.

Top left: Tanner tripple jumps for a second place at League. Top Right: Beau thinks he is dead after the 4x4.

Middle: Megan throws shot, Tanner runs the relay. Kami starts the 4x1, Corina tells Kami how she did.

Below Right: Beau warms up for his 110 hurdles. Kami pushes hard as she narrowly misses third place in the 400 yard dash.

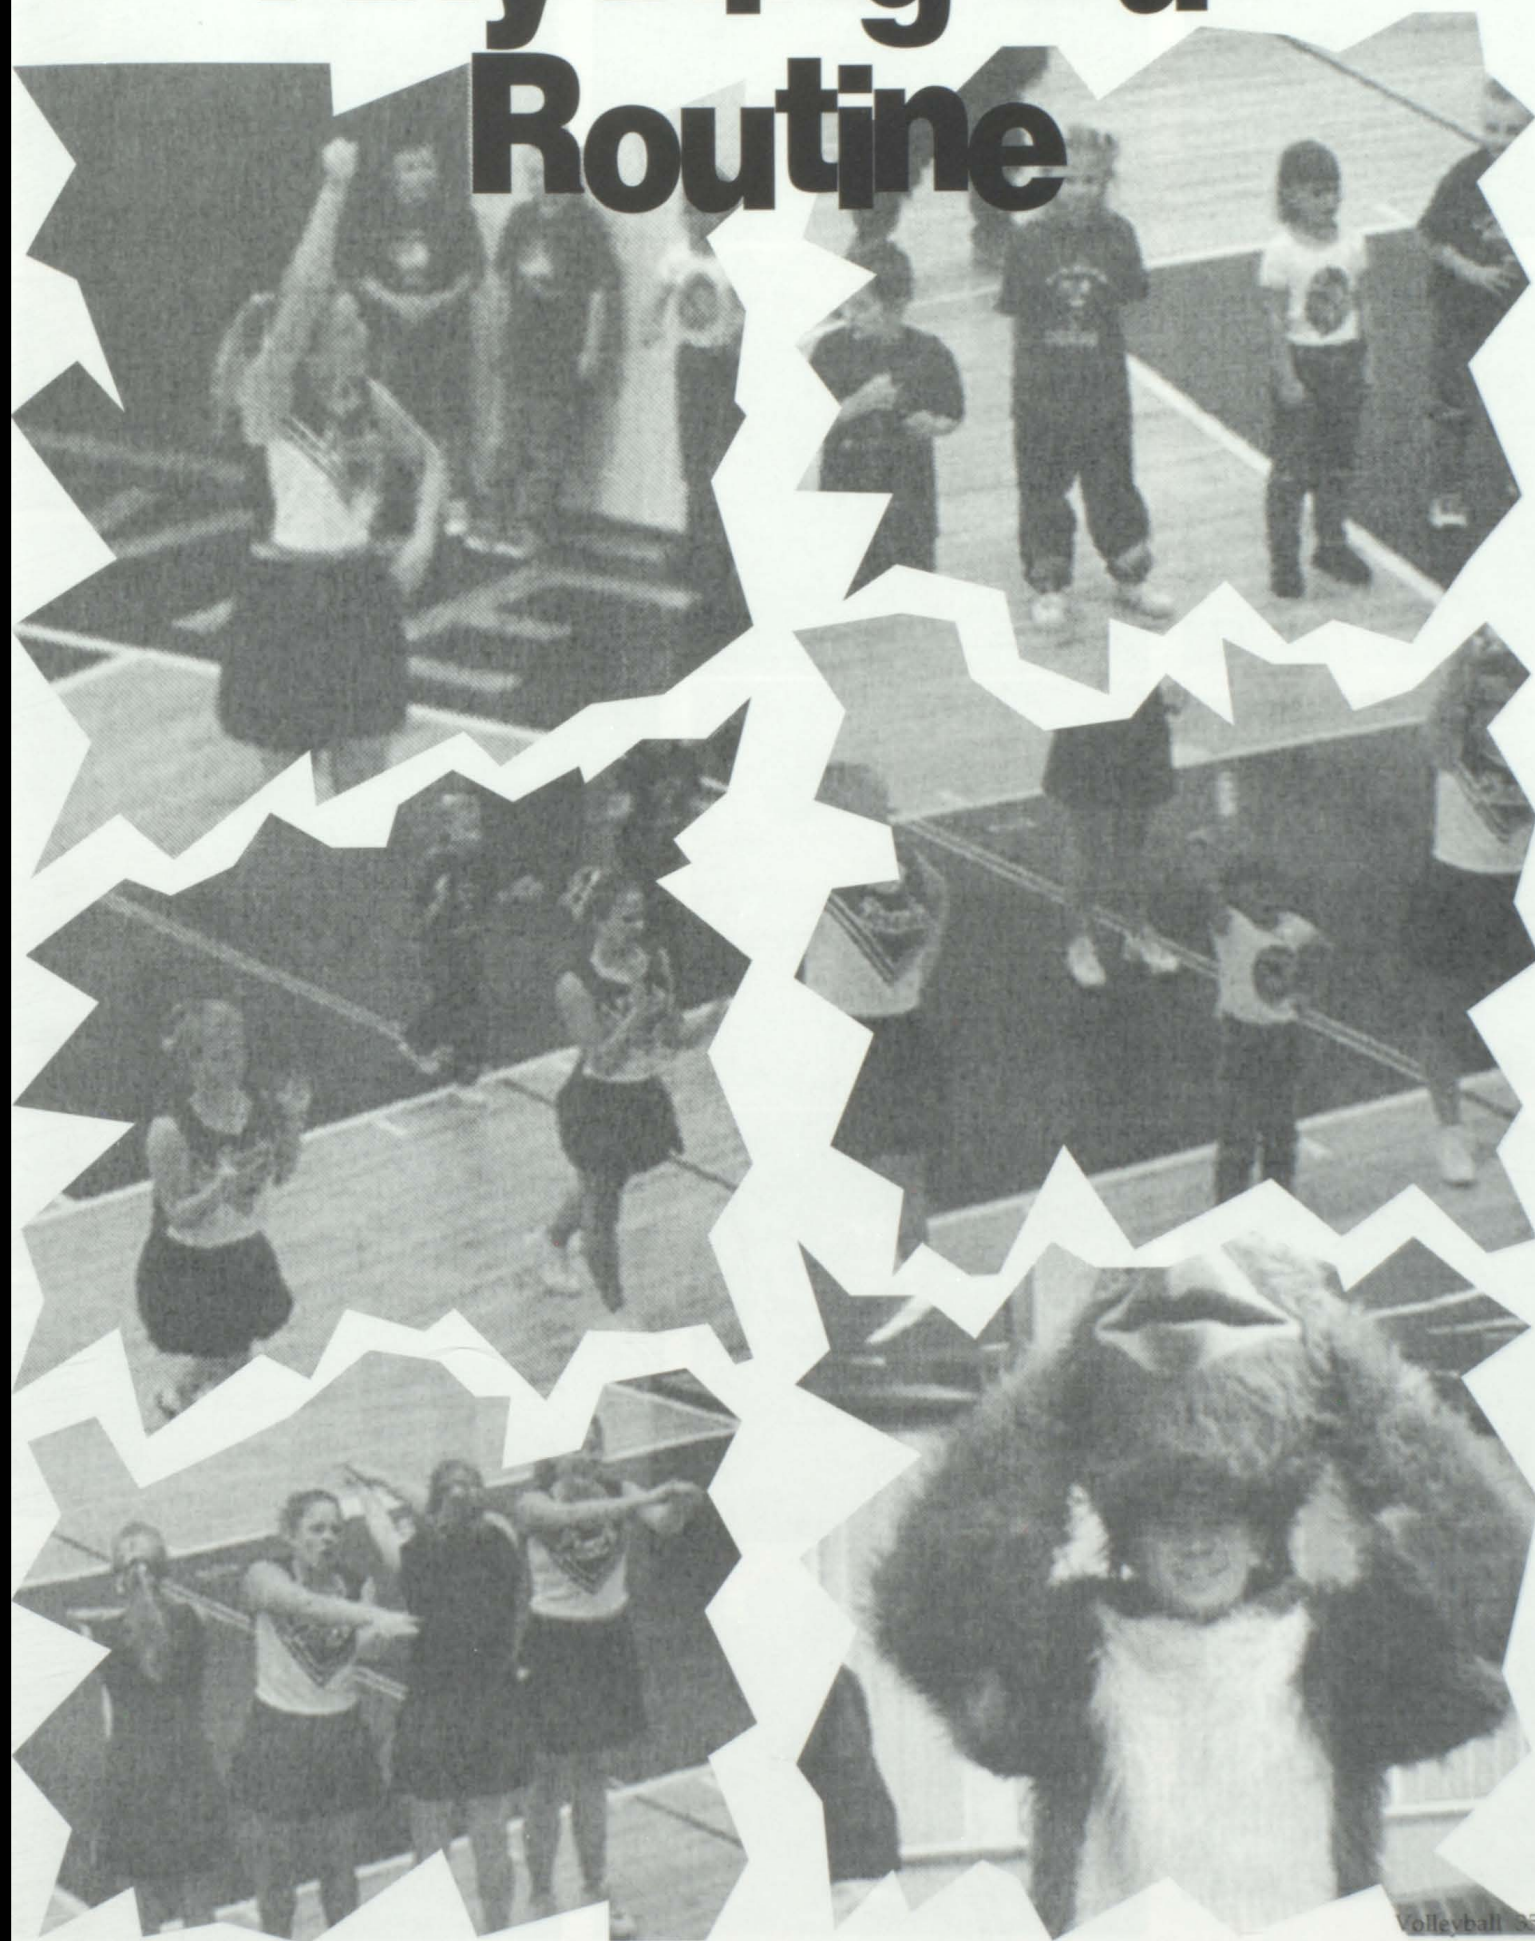

Kami strides out on her long jump. Martin throws the shot for his personal best. Miranda throws the shot as she made finals. Miranda sprints out the last 100 meters on her 800 meter dash. Miranda missed going to state by less than a half of a second. Beau leans forward in his strong finish on the 100 meter dash. Cecil runs by in his 800. Megan shows that even in track she has sportmanship.

A Star Spangled Celebration

Remembering the events of September 11, 2001 the juniors honored the class of 2002 with a patriotic prom.

In keeping with the tradition of alternate locales for prom, the Class of 2003 opted to hold their prom at the Kiowa Albright Hall in Sheridan Lake. The theme, "I Could Be Your Hero," Enrique Englesias' hit single, echoed the sentiment of patriotism, love of country, and the sacrifices made by those of our fellow citizens in uniform. Prom 2002 was followed by an afterprom party with a casino theme, where fun, games of chance, and door prizes donated by the community capped a most eventful evening.

Right: Trista Harris, Colby Mick, and Fatih Dikili enjoy some stimulating conversation in anticipation of another mouth-watering prom feast.

Montana Barber, still showing signs of hunger, demonstrates his desperation for sustenance by swallowing this innocent goldfish.
