SULLHawks Hit the Read Traveling C. H. H.

Summer// It's a time to kick back and relax with family and friends. No homework, no deadlines, nothing to worry about. Summer is a time that we look forward to the first day of school, even though there is an entire school year before it comes again. Some people spend it in the water at pools or on dirt bikes riding around, but no matter what a person does during the summer, its a time to have fun and be free.

What student doesn't want to get out of school to go somewhere else and see new things? There were many field trips this year for both elementary and high school. The students got to see things such as LIVE sharks and a Broadway musical. They all got to have some great experiences and gain memories that they will never forget!

Days in the Sun "Be silly, be honest, be kind."

Playful Days // There is no better place to play and make friends then the playground! For years, the children of Plainview have been playing on these grounds and were able to get plenty of use out of the equipment. It was decided that the kids did so well with the older swings, slides, and merry-go-rounds, that it was time to bring in some new fun ways to keep them entertained. There is no doubt that future generations will have just as much fun as those of the past—if not more—with their creative minds at warrly

One thing is for sure: playground days are always in an individual's memory, and with all the nice things these kids have to play with, they will always be able to reflect on how great it was the day they were welcomed with a new set of equipment to use for their elementary recess time. Thanks to Mrs. Kraft for getting many of the grants that made this new equipment possible and to maintenance man Brad Larrew and custodian Kevan Hebberd for getting it installed.

Hold On! Break Time At Lunch

Student's Free Time // All students at Plainview share one thing for sure their love of break time at lunch. It is the time where Plainview School has scheduled some spare minutes to make room for them to relax and enjoy themselves after a tough morning in

There is a computer lab to catch up on work for those that do not have time to take a breather-it is usually quiet and filled with loads of computers and a teacher is always close by if a student needs help. There is a student lounge with a couch to sit and relax on, a foosball table, a pool table, a mini-hoop to shoot basketballs, and a pingpong table to challenge your friends to a friendly game of table

There is the amazing gym that was spruced up for the students as well to shoot basketballs or bump volleyballs. Most students at Plainview prefer to be outside if the conditions are right, but either way, all students have plenty of space to be who they want to be when they can have a break.

Back night to remember

Dance //Plainview got a few more events back in addition to getting back football: they also got back the homecoming dance! On September 2.2nd, the high school and middle school students attended a dance set up by Morgan Blodgett, Don Blodgett, Alyssa Splitter, and Miss Greenfield. The students were all thankful for Erin Specht and Violet Lane for their DJ work, playing just the right music to set the mood for these kids to get on their feet and move.

The students even invited a few friends to come to the dance and join in on the fun. So it was by far a night to remember. Neon lights set the mood for an upbeat and crazy environment. Parents were also able to attend and watch their kids have the night of their lives.

PIZZA!! // One of the highlights of every student council event was that there was always that delectable food that all teens seem to not be able to live without: pizza!

Bowling Nights//

Movie Nights// With the new "Plainview Theater." open movie nights just became that much more exciting for the students.

Ms. Greenfield

Ms. Greenfield has been the Student Council sponsor since 2005. She deserves a standing ovation from all of the students she has put up with throughout the years and all the hard work she has put into making Plainview a fun school to ### Learn your role!

Everyone has a role to play in keeping the lines of communication open with "This year was loads of fun! I had a great time working with Ms, Greenfield. The other student council representatives were fun to work with. This year was awesome, with the new football program and Homecoming, Homecoming had to be the highlight of the year; all of the students and alumni really came together and had a great time. I am excited to see what is going to happen next year. I am excited to see what the new Student Council President, Morgan Blodgett, has in store for the school next year."

–Alyssa Splitter Student Council President

Bowling//

and all the fun activities that were planned and executed by the Student Council President, Alyssa forward to next year and all the activities that are still to come.

Ask any student what their favorite sport this year wasthey would say basketball.

Ask anyone about the most memorable line in the spring play this year and it would most likely be Sgt. Tyree's, "IS HERE, I'S HERE!".

If you were to ask any elementary kid what time of the day was their favorite, they would most definitely declare it to be recess.

The Plainveiw Senior Class of 2013 A Peek at the Past and a Look Ahead to the Future

Luke Specht 11 Luke is a bright individual who lets no obstacle stop him and makes the most of each day. Good luck, Luke.

It takes time to get to the top and that is // Luke would like to pursue one of the following careers: Wildlife Biologist, Environmentalist, Geologist, Paleontologist, or a Cryptozoologist. Luke has set his standards high and plans to meet them. He would like to attend a local college and stay close to his roots. His life-long goal is to find a wonderful young woman to marry whose interests are close to his. He would love to have a son who would inherit his love of science and a daughter who would take up animal care and habitats.

Sheleana

Sheleana Mangum and Damon

Thompson welcomed their beautifu daughter Sheleana into the world on March 1st, 1995 in Fort Morgan, Colorado. Throughout her life, she and her family have had their fair share of fights, but all the same, she is a family girl. Although she switched schools every two years, she did not truly love any other school like she loves Plainview. She has gained a few close friends while at school here that she will miss dearly (Morgan, Mariah, and Ashley).

//Baby Memeries

// Can you guess who this is? The kid at the left looking at the camera is Vance Christophersen! Vance was a great child from the start, and like so many other children, he loved spending time with his little friends.

// Who is that? That is Sheleana Mangum looking thrilled at the prospect of having her picture taken when she was just a baby!

// Look at me! This is Luke Specht and his cousins Zach and Wesley when they were elementary students getting ready for a school concert.

Vance

Christophersen

Vance Andrew Christophersen was born at Enloe Hospital in Chico. California, He was born on December 26th, 1994 to his loving parents, Virgil and Vonnie Christophersen. Vance has grown to love his Cubbies that he works with at his church. When Vance isn't working with his Cubbies, he is reading a book. Vance's motto in life is "Cod always comes first." Vance's close friends are Kate Murray, Nat Weber, and Mikayla Schmidt.

we begin the next chapter in our lives" "Like pages in a book,

ogan McVicker

Logan was born on May th, 1994 in Lamar, Colorado to his proud parents, Tia and Kevin McVicker. He came to Plainview during his lunior year and finished his Senior year at Plainview. Before returning to Plainview, he attended Ead's. While there, he met and enjoyed the friends he made even though he had to leave them behind. Logan's closest friend is Wyatt Lane from Eads. This cowboy's memory will forever trot the halls of Plainview.

Specht

Luke was born on March 13, 1994 in a car while traveling on Hwy 96 between Sheridan Lake and Towner in the back seat. Luke has attended Plainview his entire life. Although he is slightly autistic, Luke has found a way to climb the social ladder as well as the academic ladder. Throughout Luke's life, he has found that his love of science goes deep into his soul. Luke loves his family of nine. With seven siblings around the house, Luke never has a dull moment.

// A future worth planning

Sheleana Mangum

// Sheleana is not sure what her future holds, but she would like to go to college and look into pursuing a career would like to start a family at some point and enjoy life in Colorful Colorado.

Vance Christophersen

// Vance's future is a life strictly based on Cod's plans. He plans to first study ministry at Frontier School of Bible in Lagrange, Wyoming. Vance says that his main goal is to follow Cod, wherever he leads

Logan McVicker

// Logan plans on starting out life right by continuing riding pens and training horses. He would like to move out of his parents' house and start a family of his own eventually. Cood luck.

- Miss Susan Greenfield

It was an absolute privilege to be part of the 2013 school year. Plainview kids rock!

- Lani Dorow

It's hard to believe that this is my 16th year at Plainview--the time has sure flown by. I am honored to work with such a qualified and dedicated staff that cares so much for the welfare and education of each and every student. And for the fact that they have put up with me for as long as they have, Im sure qualifies them for some commendation--maybe even a parade.

Finally, after 10+ years, Plainview welcomed back a more than willing football team. Ready to fight, the Hawks geared up every day during practice and prepared to reinvigorate the forgotten traditions and school pride for a group of men new to the sport.

With new head coach Mikel Glidden at the helm, the Plainview football team committed to more than just playing on the field. The boys committed to working hard in the classroom as well. Nothing got in the way of this team when they set their mind to something, and together they can do anything.

This year was tough, but they all fought hard. Coing through a season with an unestablished reputation wasn't easy, but they made it. They created a year to remember, and a "blue"-print for the future.

Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence wins championships!

A new year and a new tradition. Plainview brought back basketball with a new twist: varsity boys. Sadly, there was no girls team, but that didn't mean they gave in-the girls joined the boys on the court. With a never-ending passion to get a team to state, Coach Glidden led the team through many challenges to prepare them for the many tests that would welcome them on the court. From all the sprints to countless drills, the team stuck to their guns and did not give up; after all, giving up is showing weakness, and a Hawk does NOT show weakness in any situation. Go Hawks!

Sacrifice is what it takes... sacrifice. Track is one of those finish and even to start. It sports where you cannot just be in it one minute and out the next. It is practicing even when you don't feel like is not a sport for just anyone. it. It is encouraging your fellow competitors to beat you; to push each other until the end. Track is the soul of

Junior High Football

Gelfaw 150!

It's not just the sport itself that gets these boys pumped up, and it's not just the tackling and the throwing...
It's the rush you get while running down the field. It's the feeling you get when you've accomplished something good, like scoring your first touchdown for your team. Like loshua Blodgett, Ethan Dorow, and a few of the others who were rookies this year, they were excited to have the opportunity to play football. If I know anything about these boys, it's that they have the will-power to work hard and the motivation to win. And at the end of the day, they don't take being good enough as being ENOUGH. Hawks, we're proud of you.

lunior High Volleyball

Through the Thick

Whether you are bumping, spiking, or setting, you're still doing it with your team. In volleyball, you have to treat your team like they are your family; you need to help one another improve as much as possible, and help them fight through the rough patches, which is what the more experienced players did when the newbee's arrived. Although winning is the ultimate goal, the team wasn't as concerned if they won or not, as much as they knew they had to win or lose together. A team does this because a team is a family-- not only in volleyball, but in any sport. Trust in your teammates and they will trust in you. And when trust is built. nothing can go wrong.

unior High Basketball

Work hard Blay hard

The junior high worked very hard to create not only a name for themselves, but for Plainview School as well, and did so with the help of a few of the school's younger players rising from fifth grade, as well as with the help of a new coach, Mikel Glidden. The team pushed themselves through practice, through the multiple laps of grapes, and through the tough drills in order to grasp the fundamentals. The team played hard to make their coach proud, and even though they didn't win every game, that's just what they did. Throughout every win and every loss, the teams, both boys and girls, pushed twice as hard in practice the next day to have a better chance the next time they took the court.

Right to left// Allee Hornback and Abigail Thayer defend the paint; Ryley Scott watches as the ball goes up; Athena Crum looks to pass over a big defender.

I really liked playing basketball this year, and, to be honest, I will miss playing with all of the friends who helped me get this far on the team.

Junior High Track

Russ, Russ RUSS!

The Plainview junior high track team did an amazing job this year. Most of them either placed or earned medals in their respective events. They all worked hard to get to where they were at the end of the season. Everyone deserves to succeed when they try as hard as the Hawks do:

whether its a throwing event, a running event, or a jumping event, they give it their all. They practice not only in school during official practice, but at home on their free time to build agility and strength so they can do better at the next meet. More teams should have the work ethic that these Hawks do. Way to go, Hawks!

nerve-wracking to some to go out in front of a crowd full of friends and family and get them pumped up for a game and involve everyone or do things blood, sweat, and tears. It takes a such as the class yell. But they pulled it off and always ended up with everyone cheering along with them! And they had fun while doing it! This only being my first year of high school, and first year of cheerleading, it's been fun. Athletics has always been a big part of my life, so cheerleading is another athletics program that I get the chance to be a part of. - Ebanee Moyers

Cheerleading has been a big part of my life all throughout junior high, and since Im an eighth grader, I won't be able to cheer for my younger friends next year. I will miss cheering with Athena, Kayden, Benji, and Breeanna.

on The Field Ready

To Push The Limits

Once a year, Plainview, Kit Carson, and Cheyenne Wells meet at the Tiger's track to hold the annual Elementary Track and Field Day. This is the one day that the smaller Hawks get to gather to show off their talent that they have worked so hard at. This is the "mini" preview of what is to come for these young athletes of the future. They train all year through various games they play and units they complete in physical education class. These little Hawks have earned their time to shine, and they did indeed. Who knows what they will be able to accomplish when they get older and finally can compete at the next level? We will be watching as these little Hawks move on to junior high and high school. Until then, tear it up on field day and show Plainview Pride!

Working hard// The picture at the very top kind of epitomizes why kids love science—where else can they light fires in class and get away with it? Here we see Morgan Hornback looking quite pleased as he watches the paper burn. In the top left picture, Seth is working to get his part of the project done correctly and done well. While in the top right picture, Taylor and Nate work together to make sure everything is in working order. In the bottom left picture, senior Luke Specht looks up at the camera as he uses the scale. The bottom right picture shows VI laughing at something that was said while holding a lit piece of paper.

Science Dissections, Explosions, and Morell

science class carried on, everyone worked hard to get their work done and have fun. Asking students what they thought about this year in science class produced answers that varied greatly. "I was not here for most of the year, but in the time I was here, I have had a lot of fun," replied DeeDee Beightel when asked what she thought about science class this year. Well said, DeeDee.

Science Fair A Battle of the Brainiest

The school and community look forward to science fair every year. Students get to show off a project that they have worked on for anywhere from a couple of weeks to several months, and in rare occasions, years. Science fair this year was a different experience with new staff running it. Ms. Greenfield took charge and encouraged all of the students who were working on their projects to do their best. Mrs. Dorow and Mrs. Hopkins also helped out a lot. This year we had quite a few kids qualify for the regional science fair in Lamar. At regionals two of our students, Mariah Priddy and Ryan Koeller, qualified for the state science fair in Fort Collins.

Neither of them received any awards, but they did their best and that is what counts. The experience at state for them both was really exciting. As Ryan stated, regional science fair was a "drop in the bucket" compared to what state turned out to be. This year was Ryan's second year qualifying for state science fair and Mariah's first. They both hope to continue doing science fair and working to enhance their projects so that next year they will be able to do more and excel.

The teacher to remember...

Mrs. Lani Dorow// Plainview went through some hard changes this year as far as math and science went, with Mrs. Sanders leaving in November and Mrs. Fickenscher leaving at semester. When Plainview was at its time of serious need, not only for the well-being of the school, but for the students who started to fall behind, Lani Dorow stepped up. Mrs. Dorow was the person Plainview so desperately needed. She teaches her students the reason why something is, and she teaches her students to not only have fun, but also to know boundaries. He classroom is the real world, and is the one loved by almost all students at Plainview who have come to know her. Thank you, Mrs. Dorow.

Plainview Students love to move

Elementary and Middle

School // Plainview kids love to get up and get active. It might really come from having a coach like Mikel Clidden or just because they cannot get enough. These kids do not mind hitting the books, but they would trade all of the books any day for a few minutes of playing some games. A well-known favorite at Plainview would be basketball. Kids love to group up and compete in hopes of showing coach exactly what they have got. These kids are always training without knowing it. They work hard and earn their time. Physical education class allows them to learn something new, work on their game, or just get into shape.

English at its Fines

Do what is right, so it because it is right, then so it right

Ms.Fees!! // A lot of great things come to those who know their stuff. Whether it be books or literature, or the best writing skills taught by none other than Ms. Fees herself, some people don't realize just how much English helps them, both now and in the future. Ms. Fees helps those at Plainview. She helps with her ways of teaching, her discipline, and how she is able to joke around with her students when necessary, especially those in high school. We like Ms. Fees, and she is a great teacher, however; she is also very strict. At the end of everyday, school year, after graduation, and during college, all her students thank her for all the time and effort she put forth with each and everyone of them. That is doing it right. Thanks, Ms. Fees.

We learn from our past so we do not make the same mistakes.

Mr. Pape // A class that examines the past helps all the students understand the present and the future. Mr. Pape's history class is one students should always be ready to debate in or get a major hand cramp. Sometimes, if they are lucky, he will even pull out an old video to make all of these events a little easier to comprehend. Then students may have a better chance to be able to win an argument against him during class, although it isn't likely. Winning a debate against Mr. Pape is like asking a pig to fly... if you think you do win, well, it's all depends on your perspective. He does an amazing job at playing the "devil's advocate" which challenges his students to formulate stronger arguments to bolster their opinions or to re-examine their positions. Either way, it's a learning

rhink, Think, Think, THINKI

These kids know the facts wherever they go...

Did you know? // Plainview includes more than athletes and kids who enjoy just having a good timeit has some kids who know a lot more than the average Hawk! Knowledge Bowl consists of a group of students and a coach (Ms. Fees) who know lots of facts in all subject areas! These kids have so many facts stuffed in their heads, it is a wonder how they don't just explode!

The kids go to meets at other schools as well as competing locally at Eads, here at Plainview, and in Lamar. They also compete against bigger schools for better titles. The middle school came back with some trophies, while both the middle school and high school knowledge bowl teams came back with more facts in their heads than they began with. These kids are brilliant!

Making the Case

We know you know how to argue, but we will teach you how to win.

Laws in question // Students at Plainview were given something extra this year to help them excel beyond the other schools in the area. They were given a class that taught them the "ins" and "outs" of the law. This class gave them a bit of an insight into the cop's, the criminals, and the lawyer's point of view-sometimes revealing a cruel truth-that justice is not always done. Not only was this class a great class for students to argue their viewpoint on law, but it was a fabulous way for them to actually understand the laws they usually did not know a lot about. This class was even given the chance to go to regional competition in which they did come very close to advancing further—not bad for being a first year class competing against schools that had done this for many years. There is always next year, Hawks!

Strive for Perfection

"Each year is a year to do better."

Yearbook It!// Ever year, Mr. Pape gathers a staff of young students striving to make a yearbook for everyone to adore and look back on. The thing is everyone thinks yearbook is just a bunch of people doing little to nothing, Yearbook requires loads of time and dedication to strive for perfection. These kids sign a contract from the start. This contract shows the outline of how dedicated this group of students are. They have to come in and work ever after the school year is out to finish this wonderful book. These students truly earn lots of praise for all their hard work. As well as, poor Mr. Pape who has to put up with these kids through the good and bad days. We hope you enjoy the results.

Pictures are very important to the yearbook; it is a book that is made of pictures. The yearbook staff does its best every year to get good quality photos for the readers' enjoyment.

Working as a team is very important for yearbook and the workshop is a great place to learn how to work together and learn how to make the best yearbook possible.

Yummm! Chocolate chip muffins! Food was a necessity on ad sales trips and these hit the spot!

// SALE, SALE, SALE!

Above// Justin and Seth are actually WORKINC! The two of them help the journalism class sell Ad Sales// Every year, twice a year, Mr. Pape takes his young talented students out to various places in Colorado close-by the small town of Sheridan Lake. These places are Tribune, Eads, Cheyenne Wells, and Sheridan Lake. The kids are assigned places to walk and sell ads, usually being split into two or three groups. They are given a price sheet, which is usually memorized by the end of the first town they go to, and a pen. These kids sure know how to work those smiles and sell ads because every year they make way more than what people realized After all, a job is always done well if it is done with a smile.

READY WHEN COUL ARE...

As graduation comes and goes, some students can't get far enough away from textbooks and classrooms. For most of us, it will never be easier - or life less complicated - to complete your next educational step as it is right now. Keep up your momentum and enroll at LCC to:

- · Complete your associate or bachelor's degree
- Gain advanced skills in a trade
- · Upgrade your workplace skills
- · or Begin a new career.

Wherever life takes you in the decades to come, the one thing that you can fall back on is your accrued education. Make it count. And if you aren't quite ready to take that next step, we'll be here for you when you are. We are your hometown college.
